New York Stock Market

NEW YORK, November 8.—The initial upward impetus to stocks to-day came from professional buying to cover short contracts, and was based on the decision of the imperial Bank of Germany to leave its minimum discount rate unchanged. On Saturday there had been reports that the rate would be raised to-day and would compel the Bank of England to take similar action on Thursday. With the satisfaction of the demand from uncovered shorts, the stock market fell into sluggish neglect, restrained apparently by the remaining uncertainty over the international money situation. The closing was easy.

over the international money situation. The closing was easy.

The influence of the cotton speculation upon the international exchanges became perceptible to-day in connection with the violent slump in the prices of cotton. Cable remittances by foreigners to replenish margins on cotton holdings caused a decline of several points in cables on London, while other maturities were unaffected yet. Exports of grain are now running heavy and making exchange.

Bonds were steady. Total sales, par value, $3,033,000.

COTTON MARKETS.

NEW YORK, November S.—The general liquidation noted toward the close of last week was renewed upon an even more active and excited scale at the reopening of the cotton market this morning. Railes occurred during the day as a result of covering and some buying for reaction, but offerings seemed to increase on every buige, and while the final tone was steady last prices showed a net loss of 13@30 points on all positions except Soptember, which was 2 points not fligher.

The market, opened weak at a decline of 23% 25 points under a tremendous volume of over-Sunday selling orders and lower cables. These orders had evidently originated before the census figures were available, so that the amount of cotton ginned to November 1 could not have been an influence, and as a matter of fact the census report received very little attention at any time during the properties of the census report received very little attention at any time during the ginia Trophy.

GAME HERE WILL DECIDE CUP RACE

Hampden-Sidney Wins Saturday She Wins Eastern Virginia Trophy.

Saturday's game here will decide not only whether Hampden-Sidney has a stronger eleven than Richmond College, but whether or not the Hampden-Sidney team wins the championship cup for the Eastern Intercollegiate Association of Virginia. It is a game of utmost importance to both teams, as, if Richmond loses, there will be no chance for the Spiders to get in the championship race.

While comparative scores favor Hampden-Sidney, the game promises to be one of the hardest fought of the senson. Last senson the decision for the cup was not made, as the four tenns—Randolph-Macon, William and Mary, Hampden-Sidney and Richmond—all had an equal claim. The Spiders have been defeated many times this season and have had great difficulty in getting together. All their losses, however, have been to teams of large institutions, and this will be the first contest with a college in her class. The entire squad was out for practice yesterday with the exception of Meredith, full back, who will probably not be able to play Saturday. His place is being filled by Mills, whose work against Wake Forest last Friday was the feature.

AMUSEMENTS

Niblo's Last Lecture of Senson

For the last of his five travel talks, Fred Nible chose Africa as his subject, repeating, in response to many requests, the talk he delivered last season on that country. On this pilgrimage, from Cape to Cairo, he took with him the largest audience of his series there were some vacant seats in the orchestra, but the house was practically filled.

The journey from Cape Town, through Zululand, German East Africa, Uganda, and various other divisions of the Dark Continent, with a number of side excursions, was made by rail, boat, bullock train and mule cart, resulting in many strange and interesting photographs and motion pictures of places and people. Of the motion pictures, the most striking and beautiful was a series showing the Victoria Falls. It would be hard to imagine a more wonderful and majestic sight than these pictures afforded.

The talk was undoubtedly interesting and the pictures, unusual as they were, conveyed a very vivid idea of this almost unknown country, but there were many pictures that should be omitted, except in an exhibition before a society for scientific research. In particular, the writer flatly disagrees with Mr. Niblo as to "the most interesting picture in his entire collection." the Dark Continent, with a number of

McFARLAND GETS DECISION.

Cicarly Outclasses "Cyclone Johnny"
Thompson in Ten-Round Fight.
KANSAS CITP, November 8.—Packey McFarland was given the decision over "Cylcone Johnny" Thompson, of Sycamore, Ill., in a ten-round fight tonight.

The battle was that of a scientific boxer who was able to hit and get away, against a man whose main asset is slugging, and who could not get near enough to his shifty opponent to land.

In but one round, the second, was Thompson able to send home enough telling blows to make it appear that his strength would carry the fight home to him.

A shout of approval went up when, at the end of the tenth round, the referee raised Packey's right hand, signifying that he had won. A few of Thompson's friends clamored for a draw, but the decision was popular in the main.

Randolph-Macon Academy Loses to Roanoke College Twenty to Two.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

BEDFORD CITY, VA. November 8-Randolph-Macon Academy football team suffered its first defeat of the season here today, losing to a team representing Roanoke College by the score of 20 to 2.

Jackson, right half and coach, was responsible for practically all the gains for the vanitors.

The Academy played hard during the entire game, and once carried the ball nearly the length of the field on line rushes, losing it when in reach of the goal, but forcing Roanoke across the line for a safety. The college team played well. It outweighed the Academy boys about twenty-five pounds perman.

nan, The game was interesting and exciting hroughout, as both teams often got off for pectacular runs. Ivee's punting was the cature for Randolph-Macon.
